Antonella is a highly skilled and versatile Maltese actress, voiceover artist, and presenter with training and experience in London, Los Angeles, Brussels, and Malta. A native speaker of three languages - Maltese, English, and Italian - and proficient in French and Spanish, Antonella's linguistic abilities are a testament to her versatility and adaptability. Her passion for accents and character development has led to memorable performances in film, theatre, and television, both in Malta and internationally. After training in Malta, in 2005 she read for a Masters in Performance at the Goldsmiths College, London, and then worked as an actress in the UK in the following years. Back in Malta, Antonella is now a well-known face in local theatre, film and TV, playing regular roles in TV series on the Maltese National TV channel, and interpreting roles in the theatre regularly.
